magic has exercised the deepest influence upon mankind from remote antiquity unto our own days it either formed part of the religion of the country as it was the case in ancient egypt and babylon and as it is now in some forms of buddhism tibet or lived an independent life side by aide with the recognized religion in some instances it was tolerated or rendered less obnoxious by a peculiar subdivision into white or beneficial and black or evil magic or was downright persecuted wherever we go however and especially if we turn to the popular beliefs that rule the so called civilized nations we shall always and everywhere find a complete system of magical formulas and incantations the belief in the witch and wizard and their powerful filters and charms holds still stronger sway upon human imagination than appears at first sight
